

WWC Alumni Newsletter 1989-1990

Dear WWC Friends,

It was enjoyable taking a couple minutes this evening to reminisce through the WWC web page. Fond memories come to mind and a smile comes to my face whenever WWC comes up. It was nice to meet Josh Wittmann at a recent missions conference, as he is planning to join the WWC ranks next year. I conveyed to him like many others over the years that WWC was the best year of the life (except for the year I met my wife, just in case she reads this).

We have been serving in camping ministry as missionaries for 15 years and God continues to meet our needs through His people and His timing. Janel and I are celebrating 15 years of marriage this month and we must be getting older as time seems to pass by quicker each year. We have been living in Saylorsburg, PA and serving at Mt. Gilead Camp and Conference Center (www.mtgileadcamp.org) for six years and it is great to see God working through this ministry. My time is spent leading the organization, fundraising, working with our four great part-time staff, finishing a $200,000 septic project and securing the permits for two new log buildings.

Our family is doing well and I enjoy working hard, spending time with family and helping others when I can. My dad and our family continue to work on renovating and selling homes in our spare time to help supplement paying for our three children attending a great local Christian school. Janel does a suburb job cooking for retreat groups on weekends. She serves as the off-season food service coordinator and works 40 hours some weekends serving up to 80 guests. She enjoys a quiet moment reading, as well laughing with friends. Daniel got his first deer this year and it was exciting for Daniel and I to each shoot a deer from the same tree together before 8:45AM. Daniel does very well in school, as well on the soccer field. Jessica likes to read and enjoys her gymnastics class. She always has a smile to share and excels in school. David is like his Dad in that he likes anything with a motor. He enjoys riding the four wheeler and getting away to Uncle Mikes where we can ride for hours and not cross the same trail. Rocky is our second lab and he is nearing two years of age.

In Christ,
Dave Trout for the Trout Family
